North P&I Club Launches Advanced Interactive Information Portal for Members and Correspondents

North P&I Club has today announced details of its new digital resource, MyGlobeView, which is an advanced, interactive geographical information portal, developed in partnership with innovative geospatial intelligence company - Geollect.

Exclusively for North's Members and Correspondents, the launch of MyGlobeView enables access to a broader range of data relating to commercial and trading risk, port infrastructure, meteorological and travel advice. The portal also includes a news feed detailing updates from reputable trade news outlets.

Geollect and North are working together to provide information, analysis and assessments relating to the commercial risks and threats faced by the shipping industry and seafarers, around the world. This is complemented by commercial and security risk information provided by Gray Page, a specialist maritime consulting group, with wide-ranging expertise in providing intelligence services, investigating cargo theft, losses, damage and fraud.

Rob McNally, Director of Marketing & Communications at North said, "Together with our partners Geollect, we have developed a really useful digital resource to assist those involved in shipping. This new portal builds on the success of our popular GlobeView platform, launched in September 2019. With access to 30 regularly updated data sources, and more to follow in the coming months, Members and Correspondents will benefit from greater personalisation and advice."

Members and Correspondents can access MyGlobeView through their MyNorth accounts.
